

Bellis Cooley submits mixed-use St Pancras plans

3 May, 2011 | By Merlin Fulcher

Bellis Cooley Architects has submitted a planning application for this 564-unit student accommodation building and timber yard in St Pancras, London

Working with planning consultants CGMS, the practice has designed a 'state of the art' facility for Travis Perkins, the builders merchants, which is incorporated into a residential building.

A statement from the practice explained: 'The proposals will allow Travis Perkins to improve their existing operations on the site and will also bring a fresh boost to the local economy by introducing high quality student housing by the country's largest and most experienced provider.'

Plans were submitted to Camden Council.

Have your say

Please remember that the submission of any material is governed by our Terms and Conditions and by submitting material you confirm your agreement to these Terms and Conditions. Links

Related Articles

- > New practice #65: Bellis Cooley Architects
27 April 2011
- > Squire and Partners' Vauxhall Cross towers go for planning
20 August 2010
- > Foster unveils revised Bishops Place scheme
25 March 2011
- > Buckley Gray Yeoman wins planning for East End student tower
25 November 2010
- > New Paddington tower marks Robin Partington's debut
26 November 2010